SUGAR

as follows on the raw sugar market under date of February 28: Our last report was dated 21st Feb-

The week opened with Cubas at 2.38 c. c. f., March shipment, and Porto Ricos at 3.70c. c. i. f., February-March shipment; it closes with buy-ers of the former at 2.53c. c. f., and of the latter at 3.89c. c. i. f., and of the latter at 3.89c. c. i. f. So recently as the 13th instant Cubas sold at 2.31c. c. f. and Porto Ricos at 3.67c, c. i. f., the lowest sales of the year. We are now .22c. above the lowest in Cubas and the same above the lowest in Porto Ricos, and odging from the interest shown by uyers, a gradual progression to a igner level will continue until we reach the international parity, which, on today's price of 10s. 0% d. f. o. b for European beets, would make Cubaworth 2.77c. c. f. and duty paid sugars worth 4.12c. When this market was at its low st, European beets were 9s, 101/4d o, b., and it is apparent that the ffect upon Europe, even that market was so much above

The gap today between Internation al values and United States values, a shown in last transactions, is .23c. against .40c, two weeks ago, such a drawing nearer together of markets here and abroad was inevit able, sooner or later, was fully recognized by producers as well as by users of raw sugars. That it has come so soon is a surprise to most, for the pearing process was not expected to start until at least half of the Cube crop had been disposed of. The early advent of the upward movement is due in the first place to the firmness of Cuban sellers, the result of a condetion on their part that the esti mates of a crop of 1,165,000 ions were too high, and in the second place to a sudden conversion of buyers to the same opinion, the sincerity of the conversion being proved by the efforts made by them to stock up, even though each step in that direction puts prices on a higher level. Past exper ience has shown that most advance are accompanied by occasional reces sions, and although there is every probability of a spot market of at least 4.12c. some months hence, we are hardly likely to get there without one or two temporary setbacks.

The Cuban outlook has caused finers to make some provision for their later wants by buying Javas for June July and July-15th August shipment, but the supply obtained is considerably short of what will be needed for their August-October requirements Javas for the shipments named are now scarce, being mostly in the hands of European operators who bought early in the season, when sugar was a less attractive commodity than it is

New Orleans refiners have again appeared in the market as buyers of Porto Rices and Cubas, but no busi-ess has yet been reported. European beet markets are firm and dearer. Today's f. o. b. quotations are: February, 10s, 0%d.; March 10s, 0%d.; May, 10s. 2 %d.; August, 10s. 5d. Next Crop—October-December, 9s. 9d.

The receipts for the week at the hree Atlantic ports were 68,682 tons. Refined.—Under the influence of a rapidly advancing raw market and an setive demand for their own product. The American Sugar Refining Com-pany, B. H. Howell, Son & Co., and Arbuckle Bros, raised their list prices ten points to 4.80c, lers 1 per cent for granulated at the opening of business tharacter. She represented Kekaurning made an advance of ten oints, thus putting their prices on
